

Farewell to two long term residents of Whenuapai Village by Mary Anne Clark

It is with best wishes for their retirement that we acknowledge the moves of Sue Clay from Punga Road and Pete Gardner from Puriri Road. Between them they have clocked up more than a hundred years of Village life.

Both raised families here. Sue's seven children, and Pete's two went to local schools and played together. A loyal Cantabrian, for many years involved with the Air Force, Pete was a Warrant Officer of Safety and Service Flight with his main job in recent times being the repair of parachutes. He was an active member of the Returned Services Association and extremely faithful in his observance of ANZAC Day.

Nicknamed the Mayor of Whenuapai, he kept an eye on people and things to ensure everything was just as it should be. Nothing much fazed him and he quietly got on with business even when the tornadoes blew their way through in December 2012 and nearly tore the roof off his garage while he was working in it. The roof bounced up and down like a trampoline and fortunately stayed fixed.

Earlier in August 2010 when there was a fire in the boiler house of the nursery in the back of a nearby section and the entire street was full of smoke with the road and driveway crowded by six fire engines, he wasn't worried at all; a calm man under pressure is Pete. For several years he traveled across the ditch to visit family in Australia and said he might well move there. A quiet knock at the door on the second Sunday in October, and "I'm off" he said, "I fly out tomorrow" and so saying, he left.

Leaving her native Cyprus when just a young girl, Sue has made her home in Whenuapai Village for more than six decades. During that time many families have come and gone. Nobody else knows more than Sue about who lived here and just where in days gone by. Her devoted husband, Mark, was a gentle, kind, thoughtful man; he died in August 2009.

Now Sue has relocated to Summerset at Monterey Park in Hobsonville. We congratulate her on her recent 80th birthday and wish her many happy days to come and we are confident Pete will be happy in Australia closer to his children and grandchildren.

Fare thee both well and be happy in your new homes.

Herald Island Community Wharf Trust

The Herald island Community Trust was formed 14th October 1999 and has as its main objectives 'to hold, maintain, administer and make available for the educational and recreational use of the people of Auckland the property known as 'The Old Wharf' located at Twin Wharf Road, Herald Island.... the recreational use of the facility for fishing, boating and general enjoyment of the upper harbour area.... the education training and development of children and adults in the marine and tidal conditions that occur in the area...the general beautification and the foreshore of the community wharf and immediate area'.

There are four trustees: Two representing the interests of the Herald island Boating Club and two appointed to represent the interests of Herald Island and the people of Auckland. There is no requirement that any Trustee must be a current resident of Herald Island or current member of any organisation. Current trustees are: Frank Reynolds (Boating Club); Eugene Johnson (Boating Club); Craig Carr Herald Island and People of Auckland; Noel Rugg Herald Island and People of Auckland (current Treasurer and secretary). There is no Chairman; any decisions are required to be by simple majority.

The primary function of the Trust is to establish the necessary funds to be held in a reserve account to cover the costs of insurance, public liability and the major maintenance costs.

There is an undertaking with RNZAF, Police, Auckland Harbour Patrols and Emergency organisations to ensure the wharf is available to them as a priority in the event any emergency occurs, or for training purposes.

Today, small surveys indicate over 80% of the Community Wharf users are residents from with the wider West Auckland area. The wharf is one of the few floating pontoon type structures on the Auckland Harbour where the public has open access to and children can be taught and enjoy the fun of sprat fishing and sometimes seeing even larger fish landed. Getting fishermen to keep the wharf in a tidy and safe condition is a major challenge and Trustees spend many hours of voluntary work policing the use of the wharf and its maintenance.

Community wharf undergoes a 20 year refit

Thanks to years of quiet planning by the Community Wharf Trust, a twenty thousand dollar bill for the recent overhaul of the wharf has been undertaken from the special financial reserves of the trust, without any financial hardship on the wider community.

Within the last two weeks piles have been reconditioned, there has been replacement of long pontoon clamp bolts, new pile guide sleeves and servicing the gangplank access way, has all been achieved, in time for the peak summer.

The Trusts financial reserves are now empty, so it will start work over the coming years to rebuild its funds for the next round of maintenance. The Council previously provided funding.

Today, we have one of the top floating pontoon wharves in Auckland so hundreds of Aucklanders of all ages can continue spending a few hours of fun and excitement fishing.

Craig Carr, a long time Herald Island resident and one of the Wharf Trustees is an experienced marine technician. He oversaw the massive maintenance job and managed the safety and handover aspects.

The community wharf was originally established to make facilities available for the educational and recreational use of the people of Auckland. With the growth of the wider northwest Auckland population, the community wharf has become increasingly popular. It remains one of only a few public wharves on the Auckland harbour using a floating pontoon.

The community wharf also provides access facilities to the Police, Harbourmaster and RNZAF in the event of any emergencies.

The Kindermarket

Herald Island Hall and Domain on Saturday 21st January, 10am - 3pm.

This market is specifically for babies, toddlers, pre-schoolers, and school age kids, with some items sprinkled in there to pamper Mum and Dad. Quite a boutique market, with no second hand items. We are looking for modern, funky, stylish items for the little ones, that are very upbeat. There will be around 40 stalls on the day. The kitchen will be open as well as smoked bacon and egg sandwiches outside, organic ice blocks that are perfect for the kids (no nasty chemicals) to beat the mid-January heat.

Fairies will join us and set up their own Fairy grotto outside, and they will be our masters of Face painting for the day. We will have a fantastic bouncy castle for the kids too.

Aromatherapist
new to the Island

I am a certified Aromatouch Massage specialist and I started up my business in Helensville earlier this year, where it was really successful.

The reason we moved to the Island was in fact after talking to Herald Island resident, Jan Thomas! She was on the table and mentioned how amazing this place was! She let the secret out. A few months later and here we are, I am so stoked to be a part of this amazing community.

I am originally Scottish and my partner is Irish, he is a fire fighter at Mount Roskill station and I am starting up my fledgling business here on the Island. Just in time for Christmas, I have put together a great deal for locals (see attached). This is effectively a half price offer which will let people experience the Aromatouch Massage. The massage is an incredibly healing, restorative treatment that uses premium essential oils and is deeply relaxing. Alongside the massage, I also practice Reiki and am always looking for people who need healing in order to practice and help people heal. Please do contact me for some reiki, a massage or just pop in for a cup of tea, we really love this community :-)

Fitness with a twist

"Powerhooping is for fun, fitness and friendship for all ages, sizes, shapes and fitness levels".

Powerhooping is based on the principles of hula-hoop, but it is much easier to use due to the additional weights and thicker diameter. Basically you are using a hoop to slim your waist, trim your hips, flatten your tummy, improve your posture and strengthen your back. It gives you a full body workout. These are just some of the physical benefits you will receive and it really makes you feel good too. It energizes you, it lifts your mood, it helps you de-stress and it boosts your self-esteem.

Everytime your Powerhoop spins around your body, it is causing your muscles to contract, due to the weights and the interior, shock-absorbing ridges. Your body feels "under attack" and the muscles quickly build an armour of muscle.

Extra weights can be added as your core increases in strength.

Powerhoop classes are coming to Whenuapai!

Wiebke (Vik) will be holding the first 'Powerhoop' class on Wednesday 14th December at 7.30pm in the Whenuapai Hall. Bookings are essential. There will be a maximum of 15 people per class so there is ample room for Powerhooping.

Wiebke understands we are very close to the holiday season so these classes are an introduction to Powerhooping and will resume in the new year. Wiebke plans to run the classes every Wednesday and Thursday evening, depending on numbers.

For further information contact: Wiebke 021-145-3525 or email: wiebken@googlemail.com Facebook: PowerhoopNorWest with Wiebke

December in the garden

Last month I spent 4 days in Taranaki with friends visiting the Annual Garden Festival. We managed to ramble around 25 different and interesting gardens and came home with lots of good ideas and PLANTS!

It is difficult to keep on top of the garden with this changeable weather. As soon as the soil gets some rainwater the wind comes and dries it out. Various herbs are coming into their own, as they like it dryer. My Ginger mint is pushing its way through again after the winter. This is a lovely variegated mint with lots of flowers that the bees love. Plant it in pots if you don't want it to spread, and use in salads.

Alstromerias are in full bloom now and there are some lovely colour variations. They are ideal for picking and last reasonably well in a vase. Change the water regularly and remove lower leaves so no greenery is in the water to make it slimy. Lavender is also in bloom along with some lovely Salvias. Take the opportunity to pick some flowers and brighten up your home. I wish you all a Happy Christmas and safe holiday.

Summer opening day

The Upper Harbour sailing rally was held on Sunday 6 November. Eight yachts enjoy a fresh breeze, fair skies, great sailing and a barbeque on the wharf afterwards. The course was challenging, despite the neap tide restricting boats to the main channel off Christmas Beach. Photos were taken by Paul Judd from the start/finish boat, the Commodore's launch (Mike and Kim Walker). The BBQ was run by Jan Frazer and Eddie Grassick and the event programme organised by Geoff Beresford and Craig Carr.

A warm welcome to our Club's newest member, Herald Island residents Shane Hollis and his family. We are sorry to be losing Island residents Don and Trish Hope who are retiring to Northland. We wish them good sailing and fair weather in the Bay of Islands.

PROMPT SERVICE * 1 YEAR GUARANTEE ON WORK CARRIED OUT

Preparing for an interview - Part 1 of 3

You have done your CV, now its preparation time for when you get an interview. Getting a job interview is a great achievement. It shows that the employer was impressed and wants to find out more about you. At the interview the employer is trying to choose the right person for the job and your trying to prove that you are the right person.

You'll need to plan what you want to ask and practice what you want to say. Being prepared shows that you have initiative and are motivated – two qualities that employers look for.

What the employer might ask:

Every interviewer is different, but there are some types of questions that are nearly always asked.

- Tell me about yourself
- Tell me about your last job
- What are your skills/strengths? What equipment can you use? Have you done this type of work before?
- Tell me about your education and training?
- What involvement do you have with clubs / sports / the community?
- Do you see yourself doing any further training?
- What is your greatest achievement?
- Can you describe a time you didn't succeed at something?
Give an example of a problem you've fixed.
- What are your weaknesses?
- What motivates you to do a good job? What will you get from the job?
- Do you prefer to work alone or in a group?
- What are your ambitions / plans for the future?
- What were you paid in your last job?
- What wage do you expect?
- What do you know about us?
- What interests you about the job? Why do you want to work for us?

If you have been out of work a while, have gaps in your CV or have had a lot of employers, you may be asked about it and should have a brief explanation ready.

If an employer asks you if you've ever been fired or convicted of a crime tell the truth. Say briefly what happened, explain how you've changed or what you'd do differently now and ask for a second chance.

Herald Island Residents and Ratepayers – President's Report 2016

Welcome all tonight, including our guests John Watson; Uzra Balouch & Nicholas Mayne.

It's been a busy year ticking off jobs around the place:

- The hall exterior painting was completed and certainly brightened up the Domain with its fresh colour.
- The Causeway Camera was installed and is up and running, we have supplied the Police with shots of a couple of number plates of interest to their enquiries.
- We have had new shelving installed in the Playgroup storage room, thanks to Sarah for her ongoing support in this part of our children's early lives on the Island.
- In April the Hall kitchen was given a makeover and certainly helps with the bookings.
- A drinking fountain has been installed at the R&R's request and is proving popular with children and the doggy bowl attached to it is great for the dogs out walking.
- The Herald Island Environmental Group headed by Jan Diprose and Ian McNeil is going from strength to strength with its pest control on the Island and soon with its native seedling propagation in a glass house behind the Post Office Museum. The clean-ups around the place make a huge difference and each time we get a few new residents along to help.
- The bookings for the Hall continue to grow, I think 3 weddings this year and lots of children's birthday parties.
- We have now signed off the leases on the Hall and the Fire Station and Post Office Museum, this is effectively for the next 10 years. We have not held a lease since 2005, so now we can move forward and to some extent control our destiny. Council are getting behind us in so many ways now – I was told by the previous Chairman to go to all the Upper Harbour Board meetings to eyeball the board members to keep Herald Island in their faces, but quite to the contrary, I have yet to attend a board meeting in the last 3 years, and I can assure you all we are followed closely by them both from our HI Community Facebook Page and just discussing ideas or problems on a one to one basis. Margaret Miles & Lisa Whyte are the newly elected co-Chairs so good luck to them over the next 3 years.

- The Library, we were very lucky to score some new shelving from the Maritime Museum thanks to a tip off from Jacqui Knowles. Etta is so pleased it has given her a chance to have a good sort out so we will have a nice new look in there. The Telephone Box outside has been turned into a book exchange.

Probably lots more to say but just have a look at the photos <<on the hall walls>> tonight, lots of before and after shots.

- Fire Station makeover (waiting on Council).
- The next event in the hall is the Christmas Carols with the same format as last year with a mixture of local musicians and singers and the children up the front. So Wednesday December 16th 6:30pm in the hall. Same Christmas Day "stuff" followed by the Multi Garage Sales and a Regatta Day February / March.

Thanks to the committee this year who have helped run this R&R smoothly.

– Mike Hassett

Garden Circle ~ November

There were 70 members present at the November Meeting at the Whenuapai Village Hall which was also the Annual General Meeting. Reports were read and accepted, a few minor changes to committee and all is set for another year although new members still welcome to enlist if they would like. Subscriptions are now due.

An extra table was needed to accommodate all the beautiful posies brought in by members who had fashioned them with flowers grown in their gardens. The variety was amazing, the colours bright, some were fancy while others quite simply arranged but altogether they made a very difficult task for Betty Struthers to pick winners from the outstanding selection.

One was even presented in a dainty teacup with its matching saucer. The perfume from the flowers was a delightful addition to the fantastic visual display. Everyone deserved a prize but finally Betty chose three winners – Lynden Bissett, Christine Smith and Margaret Treneary. The Zita Horsley Memorial Vase for Best Bloom was awarded to Mary King.

Christmas celebration luncheon it to be at Bridgewater Country Estate in Kaukapakapa this year and we will have already feasted by the time you read this, with the first meeting for 2017 on February 9 to be followed a fortnight later with a picnic lunch. All that remains is to wish you not only Happy Gardening but a very Happy Christmas to you and yours, and a Happy New Year as well, from Mary Anne Clark

Herald Island Garden Club

On a beautiful November morning members of the club travelled to Okura to visit Madeline's garden.

She and her husband have lived in their home for over 40 years and the cottage type garden was filled with colour and a wide range of plants.

Madeline is an amazing lady. She trained initially as a dental nurse, and then when her children were young she became a lawyer. She taught law for several years before retiring to become a portrait artist, which she continues to be.

Madeline is a very generous gardener and we all came away with arms full of cuttings. As she says we can say hello to her with the new plants we now have in our gardens from hers.

Home security during the holiday period

Summer is the time many of us head off on holiday. But while we might like to make lists of all the things we need to take with us, there's another checklist we need to tick off – one to make your property secure.

Let's face it, nothing advertises an owner's absence more than pulled blinds, an overflowing letterbox and a house shrouded in darkness at night. These are all things you can avoid with a little forethought.

The checklist that follows includes advice from NZ Police that will ensure you are doing your best to secure your property over the holiday period, and it's all about making sure your home looks lived in.

1. Alert the neighbours - Tell your neighbours when you will be away.
2. Clear that letterbox - Cancel newspaper subscriptions. You can ask the neighbours to clear your letterbox, or contact NZ Post to have your mail held while you are away. Consider adding a sticker to the letterbox to prevent unsolicited mail.
3. Shine a light - Smart home technology makes it easy to have lights switching on and off while you're on holiday. Some systems will also open and close blinds, and control garden irrigation systems.
Don't leave your house in the dark at night. Put a lamp on a timer so it looks as though someone is home.
4. READ MORE! - Don't post-holiday snaps on social media.
5. Blinds up - It is recommended that you leave the curtains open and the blinds pulled up.
6. Ring ring - Turn down the ringer on your phone. If no one is answering a phone it's a sure sign there's nobody at home.
7. Locked and closed - It goes without saying that all windows, should be closed, and doors locked. Make sure garages and garden sheds are also locked. Ladders and tools that could be used to break into the house need to be stored away. Leave a spare key with a neighbour, not hidden under a stone where it can be found easily.
8. No posts - Police suggest you don't post pictures of your holiday on social media until after you are home.

9. Garden watch - If your garden that needs regular watering, arrange to have someone give the garden a good soak every second day. Pot plants, also, will need to be watered.
10. Be proactive - If you don't already have a house alarm, consider getting one. It will probably reduce your home contents insurance premium, and will help to deter burglars.
* NZ Police also recommends you identify and mark your valuables, and take photographs of portable items that are more likely to be picked up by an intruder.
* Sensor-activated outdoor security lights are good deterrents.
* Wireless CCTV cameras are another way to deter criminals.

Happy holidays!
